WHEBLING, W. VA., FEBRUARY 20, 1882.

Treaties being considered in secret ses sion, the public is a good deal in the dark concerning the provisions of the reciprocity treaty with Mexico now pending in the Some of the Washington correspondents claim to have definite informa tion, and what they tell in a general way being about what we should expect to find in a measure of that kind, it is probable that they are in the main right.

But a strong pressure is brought to in duce the Senate to withhold its approval of t ie measure, let it contain what it may, on the principle that any reciprocity treaty is in the direction of free trade and, for this reason, is against the policy and interest of the United States. Mr. Wharton Barker, of Philadelphia, has advanced this view in a letter to Senator Mitchell, of Pennsylva nia. "Those who believe," says Mr. Bar ker, "that our commercial relations should be settled on any general principle mus oppose treaties of commerce. There can be no just reasons for extending to one country favors which are withheld from others. Mr. Barker is a protectionist. He publishes it is believed at considerable cost to him self, a weekly paper, The American, largely devoted to the exposition and champion ship of the protective policy. In our judge ment he has in his Mitchell letter planted himself on ground which can not be held To make the meaning entirely plain involves a brief declaration of principles The INTELLIGENCER favors what is called a "high tariff," judiciously laid, because creates and maintains home industries. In the United States the industries the United States are to be preferred befor the industries of any other country. A nation depending on other nation for its manufactures being always a poor nation, the true policy of the United State is to establsh its industrial, as it has estab lished its political, independence.

The manufacturing countries of the oli world had from seven to ten centuries the start of us in industrial deve opment, for which reason we mus fister our industrial development w sely contrived artifical conditions, and the e we embody in customs regulation. The policy of England, from which w h we most to fear, is to declare commercia wir where there is a chance for conquest destroy native industries by underselling at a loss, crush out competition and enjoy th ma ket; being forewarned we can not be so insane as to invite the enemy in.

To-day a tariff above the revenue leve is our protection. The time may come, the conditions having changed, when our fullest protection will be found in free trade: and when that time comes, free trade, or a trea'y of reciprocity, whether with one nation or all nations, as shall most conduce to our welfare, will be the true national

A tariff for protection being a means, w can contemplate a condition of affairs in which reciprocity or absolute free trade might be a better means. This generation must make sure of the present, and, so far as it can, make wise provision for the

With these views, which we know to b honest and believe to be correct, we are able to look with favor on a reciprocity treaty with Mexico, provided it be a treaty advantageous to this country. It may also be advantageous to Mexico, and so be reciprocal in its results as well as in its provisions. It is easily imagined how the greater benefit may be with us, as between eurselves and England it would be with England. Mexico is just waking from three centuries of slumber; if she will allow us to do her manufacturing for her on good terms it is quite agreeable to our policy of protection to accept the commission.

THE ISABELLA MINE.

The Criticism of the "Intellige Criticised by a Methodist. Siz:-In an editorial published in your paper of Saturday, you criticise somewhat sharply an article taken from the New York Christian Advocate, referring to the "Isabella mine swindle." You characterise it as "disengenuous, inadequate, disap pointing, unworthy of the chief organ of a great church, &c." The writer has read nothing upon the subject except what has appeared in the INTELLIGENCER, taken from the columns of the New York Herald. He ssumes that what you have published con assumes that what you have published contains the "gravamen" of the whole matter, so far as published. He does not suppose it possible that you have garbled your extracts from the Herdd in such a manner as to either conceal or distort, either the facts or ramors, which have been published in regard to the matter.

With this information, the writer is not able to see the justice or propriety of your able to see the justice or propriety of you severe criticism of the article of the Chris tien Advocate The personal charges made in the New York Herald, are made made in the New York Dlerald*, are made to bear chiefly against Dr. Fowler, a former editor of the Advocate*. We submit that it is not the duty of the present editor of that paper, to defend Dr. Fowler, against charges made against his personal honor or integrity, until at least Dr. Fowler has spoken for himself. In fact in my numble judgement, it would be improper for him to do so, pending the further investigations and developments which will certainly be made. The same remark, will apply to Dr. Du Poy, the present associate editor, of the Advocate*, against whom charges are

Let it be borne in mind, that the tran present editor of the Adv.cate (Dr. Buch occurred some years since, and that the present editor of the Ade.cate (Dr. Buckley) was not then its editor. He cannot be held responsible for any defects in the administration of his predecessor; nor is he called upon to defend attacks upon the personal character of his predecessor. For reasons already given it would be improper for him at this time to do so.

So far as the writer remembers, the charges against the personal character of prominent Methodists by name, were confined to the parties referred to. The men in due time, will no doubt speak in their own defense. Whether they do so or not, their character will come under the scrutiny of the next Annual Conference, of which they are members. If any man in the church, or out of it, has aught against them, he will be heard. In no church is there a more certain, frequent and critical investigation of the moral character of its ministers, than in the Methodist Episcop! Connected with these charges against the inisters, than in the Methodist Episcop 1 Church.

Connected with these charges against the character of these men, there was in the article published in the Herald, a poorly disguised purpose to make the Methodist church, as a church, responsible for whatever of fraud or dishonesty was to be found in the history of the mining operation. To give color to these insinuations, it was stated that all the ministers at 850 Broadway, New York, had taken stock in the enterprise. The possible effects of this statement becomes more apparent when it is explained that 855 Broadway is the seat of the great central publishing house of the church, and the headquarters of its various benevolent societies and enterprises. It might have been a great damage to the church at large. The statement was in fact the most serious one in all the articles published, because it struck at the church as a whole. It was entirely proper therefore, that Dr. Buckley, as the editor of the Church, should take up the statement, and investigate its truth. He has done so promptly. His answer is specific. It gives statistics and names in detail; and shows that the statement of the Herald was untrue. We cannot understand why such an answer could be justly characterised as "trifling." With your permission, I may in another paper comment upon some of the statements made by Dr. Newman, and Mr. Russell, who thus iar seems to be the prucipal complainants to the reporters of the Herald.

The Buckhannon Delia comes to us this week, enlarged to eight columns. Brother Clark is getting out an interesting paper, and should be warmly supported.

The Glenville Gilmerite predicts that the eleven Senators who opposed the Prohibi-tion amendment will think the lightning has struck them, when they apply for office

The State Tribune rejoices that the Salva-tion Army took up its stand in Wheeling while the Democratic Legislature was grinding out bills with sundry iniquities therein.

With its last issue the Woodsfield Spirit of Democracy entered its 40th year of publication and the 25th of the present editor's connection with it. The Spirit is prosperous, as it deserves to be.

There is no question in the mind of the Hinton Republican, but that the appointment of Mr. E. A. Bennett is a Bourbon sugar plum, intended merely to stop a stampede before the next election.

The Wetzel Democrat cared nothing per about the prohibition amer sonally about the promitted amended and had no opinion of it as a remedia measure; believes that if adopted, it-would have proved a failure, "but the people had a right to the experiment if they wanted to make it."

The West Union Record agrees with that its last issue looked as though struck by a blizzard. It offers the following explana-tions: In January it put in a new prese that has not met expectations. As to the looks it confesses; as to the blizzard, it was one of prosperity, in which its many friends rejoice.

The Fairmont West Virginian starts on on an editorial of considerable length praising Senator Fontaine Smith for hi earnest advocacy of the prohibition measure by saying, "Give the Davil his due," but does not wish to be understood as comparing the gentleman with his Satanic Majesty.

The Ritchie Gazette is authority for and an adjoining dwelling was found saying that the following notice was posted in Cairo, with crape attached, by thirty-five trunks.

M. Bonnat, the French painter, who went to Ville d'Avray to make a sketch of the dead Gambetta, spoke afterward with much earnestness of the inartistic and dispersion of the company of t people, October, 1884. By order of E. Committee."
